Fearless Girls Club

Fearless Girls Club is hosting a special creative confidence and wellbeing workshop for girls aged 8 to 12, led by award-winning author and journalist Sophie Jane Lee, who is visiting Surrey as part of her UK book tour. Sophie has worked with global organisations including Disney, The Huffington Post and L'Oréal around brand and presence, and also helps young people develop the confidence to express themselves and take up space.

Finding Your Voice is an interactive session designed to support wellbeing, self-expression and resilience through creative activities and guided discussion. It is open to all girls, not just Fearless Girls Club members.
